

Faith-Ful Friendship Sharing Question for February 21, 2010:

We all experience "little losses" and disappointments in life. These happen frequently. They may not seem all that important. Maybe they're not traumatic like a death or getting laid off. But still they affect us. This week share with your Faith Friend a couple of the little losses or disappointments that have affected you recently.